3. Summer 2020 installation review:

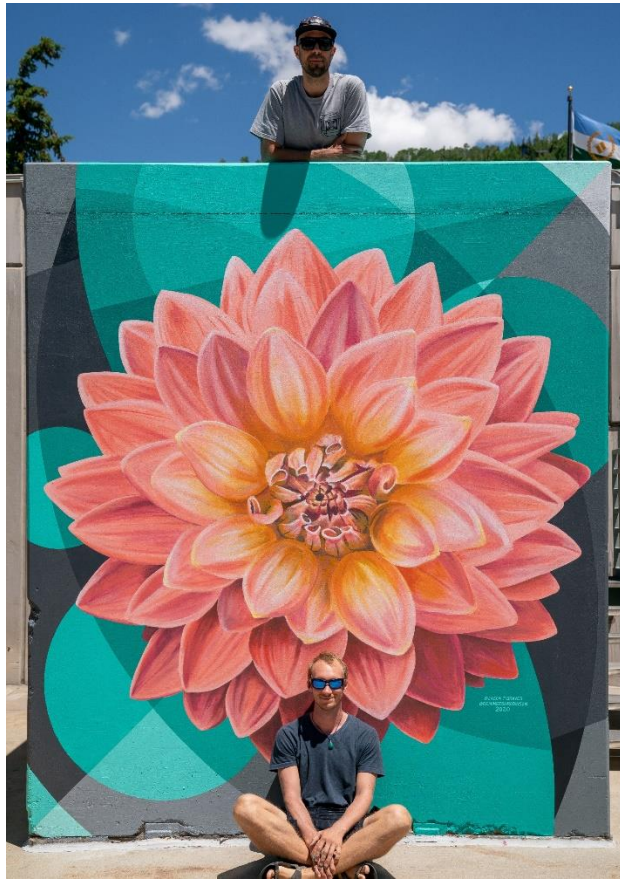

Ladies Fancywork Society & Vail Village Parking Structure Murals

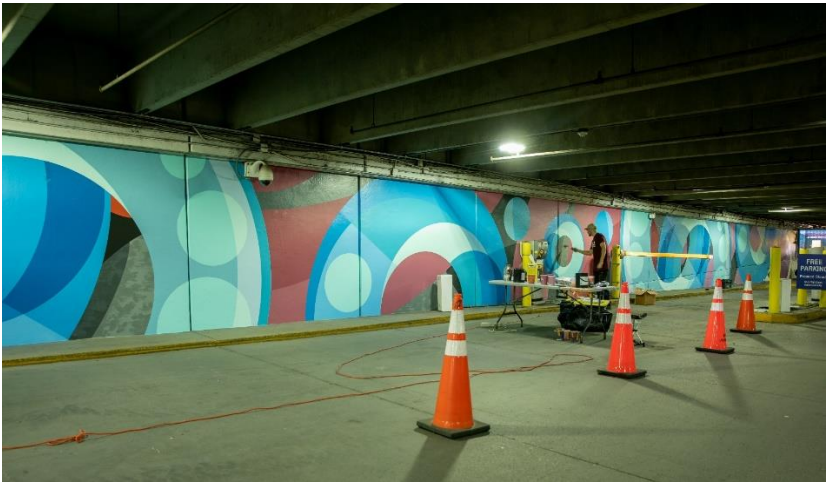

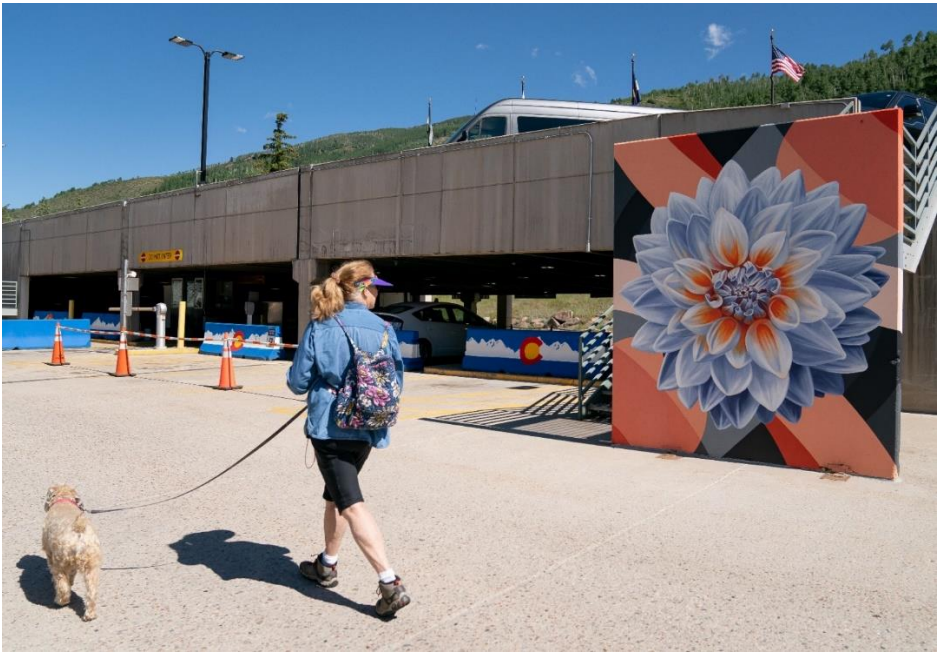

Molly reviews the timeline and process of the two installations, as well as the social media & print press. She shares images of the installations with the Board (illustrated below.)

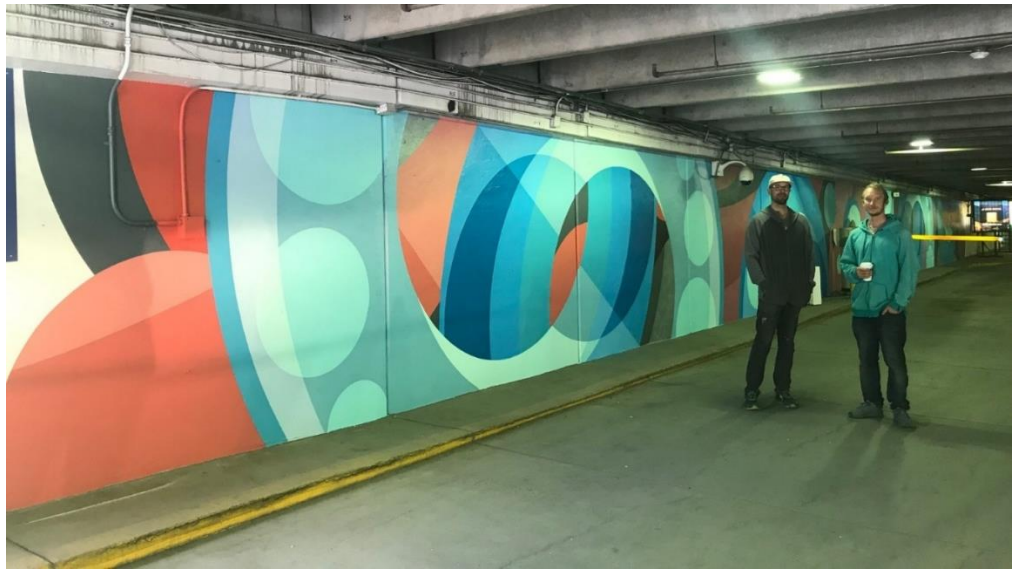

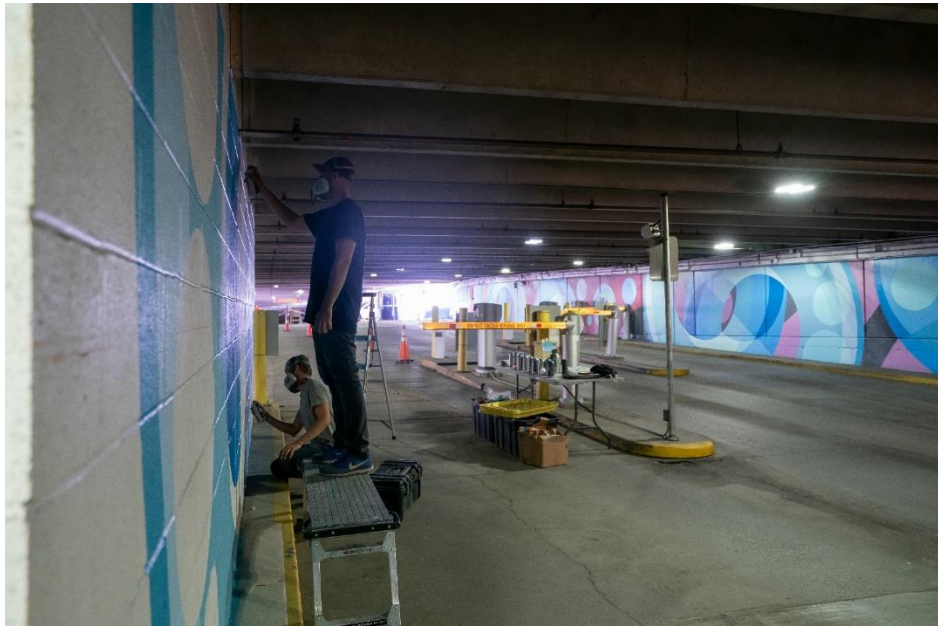

Ladies Fancywork Society – Vail Public Library:

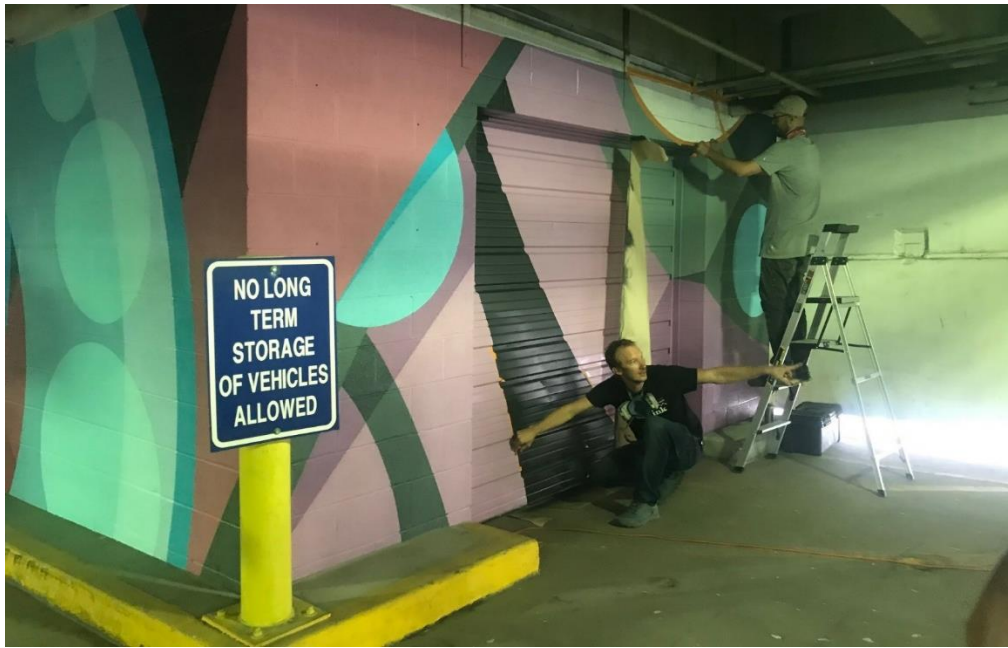

Jason Graves & Remington Robinson – Vail Village Parking Structure:

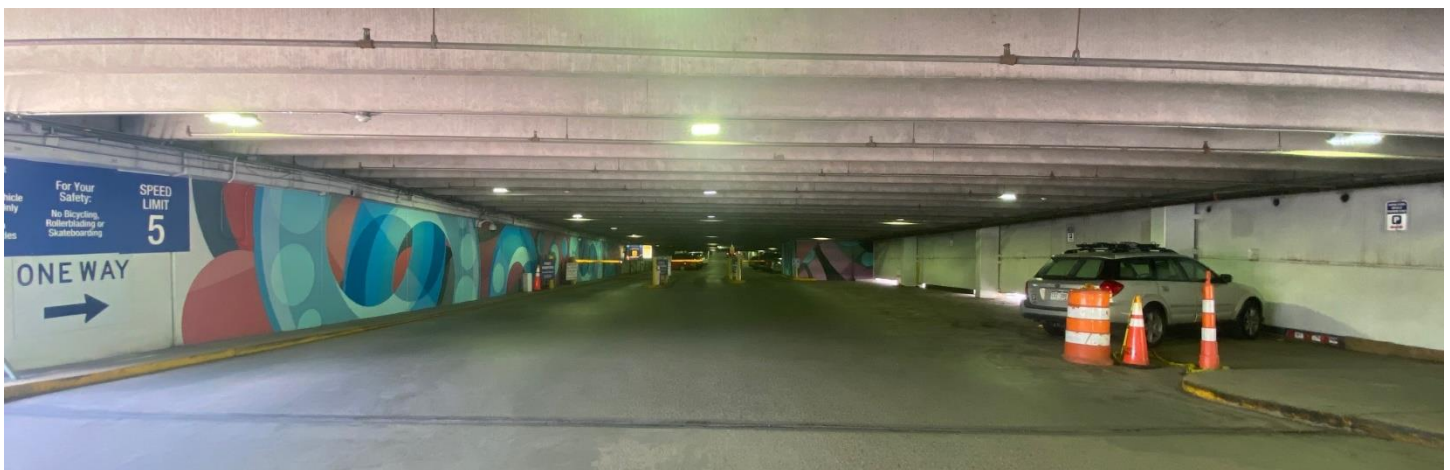

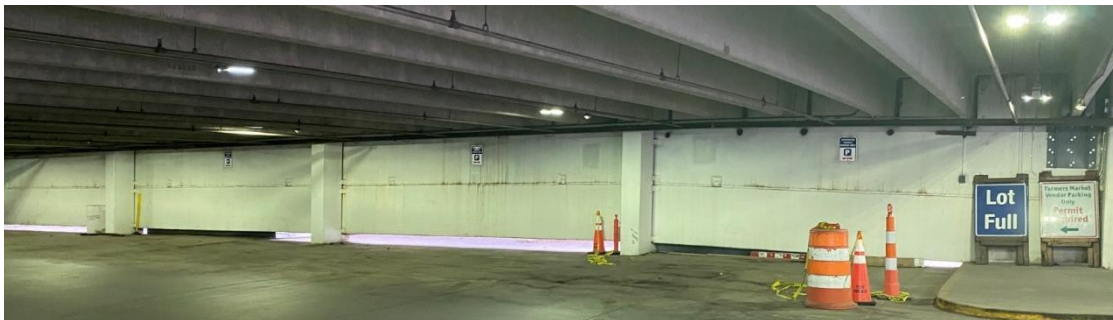

REMAINING WALL TO BE CONSIDERED FOR MURAL:

Molly reviews her discussion with the artists regarding the wall, color, light and design. The Board reviews the budget related to the time, materials and square footage of the murals already painted. The Board motions not to exceed $5,000 for a mural for the final wall. The Board feels this mural will complete the entrance of the structure with their signature style. They are very pleased with the murals created thus far by the artists. Molly will address the condition of the wall with PW Facilities prior to an arrival for completion in August. They would also like to see more light in this area if possible.

4. Art Walk Review & Activation

- At this point, the art walks are limited to 20 people. The group gathers outside the Welcome Center, masks are required as well as contact information. Molly does not anticipate large tours this summer. On July 15th the tour will include a demonstration by local artist Amy Dose painting along the Gore Creek. She is an artist who has a work in the town's public art collection – in the Golf Clubhouse. Kathy agrees that we should try to see if this engages the community with having a local artist working in the Village.

5. Coordinator updates.

- Alpine Art Classes sponsored with TOV:
7/14, 3:30-5pm @ GFA trail map painting
7/21, 3:30-5pm @ GFA paint pottery picture frame
7/28, 3:30-5pm @ GFA floral watercolor poster
8/4, 3:30-5pm @ GFA silk hoop painting
8/11, 3:30-5pm @ GFA mountain zentangle
8/18, 3:30-5pm @ GFA "colo" coaster
8/25 3:30-5pm @ GFA mosaic plaque
- Emilio Garcia's work is now installed at the Clubhouse. There are some funds remaining in the art budget for the space. She would like the Board to get a feel for the space and discuss potential opportunities for art.

- New signs have been installed for many of the town's collection.
- Library sculpture has been withdrawn from the donor.
- The artinvail.com site and virtual art collection map have been updated.
- There will likely be a presentation of the public art being placed at the expansion of Vail Health at the next meeting, as well as two other private developments.

6. Permanent location of Seibert Memorial Sculpture Discussion

- The Board reviews possible alternate locations for the placement of the sculpture. Some feedback is that Seibert is gesturing towards the back of the Sitzmark versus the expanse of the mountain.
- The Board discusses the scale in relation to this potential site. Since the sculpture will be placed against the trees on the Gore Creek, the back of the sculpture will not be accessible at that site as well. Kathy is concerned with the height of the sculpture and the eave. Molly and Kara explain that the work would be oriented at an angle with Seibert gesturing towards Riva Ridge and it would not interfere with the eave.
- The ski racks are typically not in this location.
- The Board would like Molly to discuss this possible location with Bill Rey and Roger Tilkemeir.

- The Board discusses relocating the snowball fight installation, so it has more dialogue. They feel if possible, it would be worth pursuing the figures juxtaposed across the path near the Pirate Ship Park.

Public Art in Private Developments: Marriott (ELK SCULPTURE) & Altus public art.

7. No other matters from the Board.

8. Meeting adjourned.
